Dear Parents/Guardians of Sixth Grade TSA Students,

Welcome to the start of another school year! We welcome the opportunity to work with your child. We also certainly hope that this year will be a productive one for your child as they grow and develop not only academically, but also artistically and personally as well.

In order to facilitate your child's success, communication between school and home is critical. To this end I make one of my goals every year to improve upon communication with all of my students' families. If you feel the need to contact me regarding your child and any special information you may have, please feel free to do so. Contact information can be found below.

Your child should have with them copies of the syllabi for my math (and science, if applicable) course(s) this year. Your child should also have brought home a copy of the student agenda book, which contains much important information. I would ask that you sign and return the completed form below indicating that you have gone over the all of this material with your child.

I look forward to the opportunity to meet you at some point during the school year, and I wish for you and your child a wonderful experience here at TSA.

Sincerely,

Mr. Ryan Randolph

Please detach and return the portion below by Friday, September 4, 2009. This will count as five (5) points each for their first homework assignment in both math (and science, again, if applicable). (It won't get any easier than this!)

-----
I have reviewed and understand the course syllabi for both math (and science, if applicable), as well as the student agenda book with my child,
